Re: [redacted]

The CI and SCM community and programs have been going through evaluation and dramatic change throughout the 1980's. In the wake of the 1985 John Walker espionage case and the "year of the spy" the Intelligence Community participated with Congress in a complete review of the nation's CI and security countermeasures plans, programs, and capabilities. This resulted in the President's report to Congress in September 1986, that set forth numerous proposals to enhance our national CI and SCM programs. [redacted]

[redacted]

In addition to this external review of the national CI program, the FBI conducted a complete review of our FCI program, foundations, missions, objectives, goals, requirements and strategy. [redacted]

[redacted]

b3

Throughout the 1980's, the Congressional oversight committees and elements within the Intelligence Community continually questioned the effectiveness of the Intelligence Community mechanism to coordinate our national counterintelligence programs. [redacted]

Thank you for writing on February 23rd to commend the FBI's work in connection with the investigation of the shooting incident at CIA Headquarters.

It will be a pleasure for me to share your letter with my associates, along with my gratitude for their commitment to this tremendous task. I know they will appreciate your taking time from your busy schedule to single out those people who have contributed to the progress we have made.

The superb cooperation among all the investigators in this case has been of tremendous assistance in the identification of a suspect. I want to pledge to you, on behalf of all of us in the FBI, our continued commitment to the resolution of this heinous crime.

Sincerely yours,
